HUSKERS LOOK TO CAPITALIZE ON STELLAR 2020 START

The 2019-20 Huskers got off to an outstanding start in the spring of 2020. NU finished the short season 11-4 overall including a 9-0 record at home.

The 2021 Huskers look to capitalize on their 2020 success and the unconventional circumstances that allow the return of eight letterwinners. Seniors Claire Reifeis, Hayley Haakenstad, and Emma Worley will return for their fifth seasons thanks to extra eligibility from the COVID-19 pandemic.

NU hopes to continue the success they found in 2020 that included a 9-0 record at home and a 1-0 mark in the Big Ten.

The Huskers welcome two international newcomers to the 2021 squad in Maja Makoric of Dobrovo, Slovenia and Vivien Sandberg of Ahuas, Germany. Makoric and Sandberg were both standout youth tennis players in their home countries and will look to add to an already solid Husker lineup.

We have added two outstanding Freshmen. Maja Makoric and Vivien Sandberg both show tremendous promise and will be a tremendous asset to the strength of the Huskers." Coach Jacobson said of the freshmen duo.

Nebraska also welcomes Junior transfer, Samantha Alicea. The Miami, Fla., native spent her first two seasons at Arizona State, going 18-3 in doubles her freshman season to earn a ranking of No. 85.

The 2020 freshman lived up to their title of No. 14 recruiting class in the nation. Chloe Kuckelman was one of three Huskers to earn nine singles wins in 2020. The Overland Park, Kan., native won a team-best 27 matches. During the spring she went 9-5 overall in singles and 10-3 in doubles. On Feb., 1, Chloe defeated Nadeen Liberman at No. 3 to give NU the 4-3 win over Air Force.

Ellie Kuckelman had a stellar debut season for NU in 2020. In the spring, she went 9-2 in singles play. Chloe and Ellie Kuckelman teamed up to be the Huskers winningest pair of 2020. The twins went 11-4 overall and 8-3 in the spring.

Kristina Novak was a dominant singles player for NU. The Radovljica, Slovenia native went 9-3 during the spring including a 4-1 record at the No. 1 spot. In the fall of 2020, Novak won an ITA Fall Circuit competition in Wichita, Iowa. Novak defeated Zoe Hammond in straight sets (6-2, 6-4) to earn the title.

Isabel Adrover Gallego was a major component to NU's 2020 success. Adrover Gallego went 10-6 overall and 5-2 during the spring. The Mallorca, Spain native was given the Big Ten Sportsmanship award for her demonstration of good character and citizenship on and off the court.

Jessica Aragon returns for her third season with the program. The Junior from Plano, Texas went 5-5 in overall singles play and 3-3 during the spring. In doubles, Aragon posted a 5-2 record playing primarily with Haakenstad.

All three seniors on the 2021 roster are returning for their fifth season with the program.

Emma Worley, who has been a consistent leader in the program throughout her Nebraska career, is ready to compete in her final season with the Huskers. In 2020, Worley went 1-0 in singles and 1-0 in doubles. The Northville, Mich., native was named the Boyd Epley lifter of the year for her dedication in the weightroom. Worley was also a Big Ten Distinguished Scholar and Academic All-Big Ten.

Hayley Haakenstad has been a solid component of the Huskers success during her career. In 2018 she was named team captain despite being just a sophomore. Following her junior season, Haakenstad was awarded the Big Ten Sportsmanship Award for displaying outstanding sportsmanship and ethical behavior on and off the court. The Chanhassen, Minn., native has been an asset to the Huskers in the doubles game. With 61 career doubles wins, Haakenstad will look to add to that total in her fifth season. In 2020, Haakenstad paired up with Kristina Novak, going 5-2 overall and 4-1 in the spring. In singles action, she was 6-1 during the spring-the best winning percentage of any Husker to compete in more than one match last season.

Claire Reifeis closes out the senior class. The fifth-year from Indianapolis, Ind., has had a long run of success throughout her career as a Husker. She has twice been named First Team All-Big Ten in 2019 and unanimously in 2020. As a junior in 2019. Reifeis put together her most impressive season. In singles she was 19-6 overall and 8-3 in Big Ten action. In doubles Reifeis was 15-6 with two different partners.

Reifeis has 74 total singles wins entering the 2021 season. In 2020, Reifeis went 8-8 in singles play and 7-5 in doubles action.

"Claire continues to grow in all aspects of her game. Her Forehand is a weapon and she can impose pressure from any area of the court, Head Coach Jacobson said. "Claire's Return of Serve is a tremendous strength that often puts her opponent on the defensive. Over the years, Claire has become more patient, and willing to work the point."

The Huskers are ready to take on the challenges of a 16 match Big Ten season. The Huskers will be challenged by the strong programs across the conference. Both Northwestern and Ohio State ranked in the Top 25 ITA pre-season polls.

The Huskers have been working their way back to the top. Following a rebuilding season in 2014, the Huskers saw significant progress in 2015 in the first season at the Dillon Tennis Center. In 2016, Nebraska went 17-8 overall and carried that success into the 2017 season when the team went 19-8.

The 2018 season provided another step forward. With an 18-7 record, NU just missed out on the NCAA Tournament and ended the season with a ranking of No. 45. Last season, the Huskers went through a rebuilding year, coming out of the season with many positive gains despite a 10-17 record.

After the No. 14 recruiting class in the nation joined Nebraska in 2020, the program saw incredible progress. All five newcomers played a pivotal role in NU's return to success.

Coach Jacobson is confident in the potential of the 2021 squad. Following tremendous improvement from 2019 to 2020, Jacobson believes the 2021 squad will be the best Nebraska has had in years.

"With the return of our Seniors , we believe this will be the strongest team we have seen at Nebraska since the 2013 program that finished 16 in the Nation. In addition, returning everyone back from a team finishing 11 -4 last year should give our program confidence moving forward."

A HISTORY OF SUCCESS

Entering his 30th season as Nebraska women's tennis head coach, Scott Jacobson has had his Huskers consistently ranked among the top 75 teams nationally for nearly 20 years, while making regular NCAA Tournament appearances the past decade.

Jacobson owns 428 victories at the helm of the Huskers and has averaged more than 15 wins per season. Jacobson ranks 16th in wins among active NCAA head coaches. Jacobson has been laying the foundation for the Nebraska program brick by brick since his first season in 1991-92, his program has been defined by consistent success.

2013 CONFERENCE TITLE SEASON

He led Nebraska to the Big Ten Conference regular-season title in 2013. From 2010 to 2013, Jacobson's Huskers produced the most successful stretch in school history, winning 20 or more matches for four straight seasons to advance to four consecutive NCAA tournaments. NU finished No. 16 in the final ITA rankings in both 2012 and 2013, including the program's first NCAA Sweet 16 appearance in 2013.

Since that Sweet 16 appearance, Jacobson has been building the women's tennis program back to a point of national prominence, aided by the addition of the world-class Sid and Hazel Dillon Tennis Center. Over the past four seasons, the Big Red has more than doubled its win total from eight wins in 2014 to 18 victories in 2018.

BUILDING A WINNER

In 2020, Jacobson guided Claire Reifeis to a unanimous first-team All-Big Ten selection following a 6-4 singles mark in the spring and a 5-3 doubles record. He also coached three freshmen to nine singles wins in Chloe Kuckelman (9-5), Ellie Kuckelman (9-2) and Kristina Novak (9-3).

With an 11-4 overall record and a 9-0 record at home, the Huskers were confident before the season was cut short due to COVID. Nebraska landed at No. 51 in the final 2020 ITA rankings, just a spot behind Florida International who NU defeated 4-0 early in the season.

JACOBSON GUIDES WEATHERHOLT

Mary Weatherholt, the greatest player in program history, capped her Husker career by finishing as the runner-up at the 2013 NCAA Singles Championship. Weatherholt was a first-team All-American in both singles and doubles play in 2013, as she teamed with fellow All-American Patricia Veresova to advance to the final eight in the doubles competition.

Off the court, Weatherholt claimed one of the NCAA's top overall honors as a winner of an NCAA Top Ten Award in 2014. She was the Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete of the Year in both 2012 and 2013, and she was Nebraska's Female Student-Athlete of the Year in 2012-13. Weatherholt added a Big Ten Sportsmanship Award, while claiming the ITA Cissie Leary Sportsmanship Award, which is presented to the nation's top women's tennis student-athlete.

BREAKING RECORDS

The Huskers' record-breaking 2013 season followed on the heels of a 2012 campaign that featured a 24-5 overall record and a 9-2 Big Ten mark in Nebraska's first year in the conference.

Weatherholt, who returned to the court after suffering a knee injury as a sophomore in 2011, again led the Huskers along with Veresova, Weinstein, Janine Weinreich and senior Madeleine Geibert.

A three-time all-conference pick both athletically and academically, Geibert set the NU record with 181 combined wins before Weatherholt broke the record the following season. Jacobson earned 2012 Big Ten Co-Coach-of-the-Year honors after leading the Big Red to the second round of the NCAA Tournament.

NEBRASKA'S BIG 12 FAREWELL

In Nebraska's final season in the Big 12 Conference in 2011, Jacobson led the Huskers to a 20-win campaign despite dealing with the loss of Weatherholt to a knee injury early in the fall. NU finished fourth in a loaded Big 12, producing a 7-4 conference mark while qualifying for their third straight NCAA Tournament.

Geibert and Veresova both earned All-Big 12 honors. Jacobson capped his association with the Big 12 Conference by leading seven Huskers to Big 12 individual titles and 26 first-team All-Big 12 awards.

COACH OF THE YEAR

In 2010, Nebraska posted the first 20-win campaign in school history, finishing with a 22-6 overall record that included a 9-2 Big 12 mark and a third-place conference finish. Jacobson was named Big 12 Coach of the Year for the second time, while leading the Huskers to their first-ever NCAA Tournament victory with a first-round win over Illinois.

Jacobson, who led Nebraska to its first NCAA Tournament with an 18-4 record and a 9-2 Big 12 mark in 2005, was also the 2005 Big 12 Coach of the Year. The 2006 team added a 17-10 overall record while featuring Big 12 Freshman-of-the-Year Kim Hartmann on its way to a second straight NCAA Tournament bid.

ACADEMIC EXCELLENCE

While Nebraska has seen its most success on the court under Jacobson, the veteran head coach also emphasizes excellence in the classroom and in the community.

During his career, Jacobson's Huskers have earned numerous academic all-conference accolades. Jacobson also guided the athletic career of two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American Imke Reimers.

The women's tennis team also earned the Herman Award four straight years from 2011 to 2014 and most recently from 2018 to 2020. The 2020 squad earned a cumulative GPA of 3.686.

JACOBSON'S COACHING PHILOSOPHY

"By helping our student-athletes develop the values of dedication, cooperation, compassion and the ability to handle adversity with courage, we help them grow as both tennis players and as people. Through a belief in one another and a positive approach to competition, we can build meaningful relationships off the tennis court and continue a winning tradition on it."

Most of Bayon's coaching experience comes from his long stint in the Southeastern Conference, first at Mississippi State University from 2001 to 2003 and then at the University of Florida, under Head Coach Andy Jackson from 2003 to 2012.

During his time in Gainesville, he helped the Gators make the Final Four in 2005 as well as winning the SEC tournament championships in 2005 and 2011. The Gators were ranked in the top 10 nationally in eight of his nine seasons and he assisted in producing 15 All Americans and three SEC players of the year.

COLLEGE PLAYING DAYS

During his four-year stint on the squad, Bayon compiled career records of 88-51 (63.3 percent) in singles and 82-49 (62.6 percent) in doubles, ranking him in fifth place on Mississippi State's all-time list for total wins when combining singles and doubles play. He ranks eighth in singles and second in doubles overall.

More impressively, however, was Bayon's victory rate in team match situations for the Bulldogs. MSU's team captain in 1999 and 2000, he registered dual match records of 63-23 (73.3 percent) in singles and 57-32 (64.0 percent) in doubles. When combining those two marks, he is Mississippi State's all-time leader in dual match triumphs with 120 career wins in team competition. He is third in Mississippi State history in dual match singles wins and first in doubles.

Bayon held national rankings in both singles and doubles for much of his career, climbing as high as 43rd in the country in singles and sixth in doubles.

Individually, Bayon qualified for the 1998NCAA Doubles Championship and the 2000 NCAA Singles Championship.

TED CARTER

University of Nebraska President

Walter "Ted" Carter Jr. began his term as the University of Nebraska's eighth president on January 1, 2020.

Carter served as superintendent of the U.S. Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md., from 2014 to 2019, the longest continuously serving superintendent in Annapolis by special request of the Secretary of the Navy and the Chief of Naval Operations. As superintendent - the Naval Academy's equivalent of a university president - Carter oversaw all functions of the institution, including leadership of 4,400 students and 1,500 faculty and staff, management of a $500 million budget and oversight of academics, facilities, admissions and policy.

He also formed the nation's first accredited cyber operations major and accredited a nuclear engineering major at the Naval Academy. During his tenure, the academy was ranked as the nation's No. 1 public university by Forbes Magazine. Prior to that role, Carter was president of the U.S. Naval War College in Newport, R.I., where he led 1,600 resident students, 100,000-plus distance education students and 600 faculty and staff in graduate-level education.

Carter was a successful fundraiser in both roles, working with his foundations to raise a total of $400 million in philanthropic support for academic programs. He also worked with Congress to direct $120 million toward a new cyber operations building at the Naval Academy; the building will be named after Rear Admiral Grace Hopper, the first at any service academy to be named for a woman. Carter has extensive experience briefing members of Congress and has shared the stage at speaking events with Presidents Donald Trump and Jimmy Carter and Vice Presidents Mike Pence, Joe Biden and Dick Cheney.

Carter also boasts extensive military service, having graduated from the Navy Fighter Weapons School (Top Gun) in Miramar, Calif., in 1985. He was commander for the Carrier Strike Group Twelve, in which he commanded 20 ships, two nuclear-powered aircraft carriers and two carrier air wings that were deployed to Afghanistan and the Arabian Gulf. He is a naval flight officer with more than 6,300 flying hours, and has completed 2,016 carrier-arrested landings, an American record.

Carter earned his bachelor's degree in physics and oceanography from the U.S. Naval Academy. He also has educational credentials from the 18-month-long Navy Nuclear Power School, the U.S. Air Force Air War College, the Naval War College and the Armed Forces Staff College.

The son of an English teacher, Carter was raised in Burrillville, R.I., a rural, one-high school town in the northwest corner of the state where he became an accomplished clarinetist and baritone saxophone player. He and his wife, Lynda, have two adult children, Brittany and Christopher.

BILL MOOS

Athletic Director

Honor the past. Live the present. Create the future.

Nine simple words that carry impressive significance and undeniable responsibility. Words that Nebraska's new athletic director uses to lead his programs and set the tone for building champions in competition and in life.

William H. (Bill) Moos was named Nebraska's Athletic Director on Oct. 15, 2017, and fully assumed those responsibilities on Oct. 23.

Moos, who became the 15th athletic director in the history of the storied Cornhusker program, brought nearly 25 years of experience as an athletic director at three Division I schools (Washington State, Oregon, Montana) with him to Nebraska. More importantly, he brings an impressive track record of success in building outstanding programs, developing long-term relationships, and for doing what is best for his schools, its fans and most importantly, its student-athletes.

"When you name the top three, four, five athletic programs in the great positions as an athletic director, Nebraska is in that same breath," Moos said at his introductory press conference at Memorial Stadium. "I want you to know that my motto has always been, in the 25 years I have been a Division I athletic director and it will be here too is very simple - honor the past, live the present, create the future."

In his first six months at Nebraska, Moos made three coaching hires. He drew universal praise for hiring Scott Frost, the 2017 consensus national coach of the year, as Nebraska's head football coach in December. Following the spring semester, Moos also hired Mark Hankins to coach the men's golf team and Sean Maymi to lead the men's tennis program.

Nebraska made national headlines with the hiring of Fred Hoiberg as its new men's basketball coach in 2019. Moos made another impact move with the hiring of former Husker Will Bolt to lead the baseball program, after Major League All-Star, Gold Glove award winner and World Series champion Darin Erstad stepped down from his head coaching position after leading the Huskers to the 2019 NCAA Tournament.

Moos hired Lisa Johnson to lead the women's golf program after the retirement of long-time coach Robin Krapfl. He also hired long-time Husker assistant Paul Klempa to guide the nationally dominant bowling program after the retirement of the legendary Bill Straub, who led the program to five NCAA titles since 2004.

Former Husker national champions Heather Brink (women's gymnastics) and Rachel Martin (rifle) were also hired by Moos to lead those national championship-contending programs.

In competition, the Nebraska volleyball team claimed the 2017 NCAA title just months after Moos was hired, before adding an NCAA runner-up finish in 2018. Both the men's and women's gymnastics teams finished in the top six at the 2018 NCAA Championships, before the men added a third-place team finish in 2019 - its best team showing since 1999. The bowling team added top-three national finishes in 2018 and 2019, while the wrestling team has produced top-10 NCAA finishes both seasons. The women's basketball team made the NCAA Tournament in 2018, while the baseball team advanced to NCAA Tournament play in 2019.

Nebraska also has continued its excellence in the classroom, producing 11 CoSIDA Academic All-Americans over the last three years, bringing NU's nation-leading total to 340 all-time CoSIDA Academic All-Americans across all sports.

Moos came to Lincoln after spending seven-plus years at Washington State (2010-17). He previously served 12 highly successful seasons as the athletic director at Oregon (1995-2007).

During his time at his alma mater, Moos wasted little time in making his impact felt in Cougar Athletics, spearheading a department-wide rebranding effort with Nike while securing a 10-year, $35 million marketing rights agreement with IMG College.

In addition, the 2004 WSU Alumni Achievement Award winner gained Regents approval for a $130 million addition and remodel of Martin Stadium, featuring a remodeled press box with luxury seating, including suites, loge boxes and club room.

Also included in the project was a state-of-the-art video board and an 80,000-square-foot football operations building that served as the stadium's showpiece and opened in May 2014.

As the dean of Pac-12 athletic directors, Moos was at the forefront of the conference's procurement of a 12-year, $3 billion television contract with FOX and ESPN, a landmark agreement in college athletics. Under Moos' direction, the Cougar Athletic Fund's Annual Giving program saw an 81 percent increase in gifts while CAF donor members rose from nearly 4,000 to more than 7,500.

Additional facility enhancements under Moos included a center-hung video board in Beasley Coliseum that was installed prior to the 2011-12 season, giving Cougar basketball one of the premier fan experiences in the conference. An indoor golf hitting facility was also completed in early 2013, and Lower Soccer Field underwent a major renovation making the venue TV-ready while also providing one of the best playing surfaces on the West Coast, along with the addition of lights and a new scoreboard.

Other enhancements were made to the Moobery track facility, Bailey-Brayton Field, the basketball practice gym, Gibb Pool and the Simmelink Indoor tennis courts. In Moos' seven years at WSU, Cougar student-athletes and coaches accounted for 805 academic all-conference selections, 130 all-conference accolades, 45 All-America honors and three Pac-12 Coach-of-the-Year honors.

Moos served as Oregon's director of athletics from July of 1995 to 2007. While at Oregon he oversaw a 17-sport department that grew to national prominence during his tenure. Oregon's annual budget grew from $18.5 million in his first year to more than $40 million by 2007, becoming 100 percent self-sufficient during that time. Under his direction the Duck Athletic Fund donor base increased from 4,930 to 12,290, resulting in an annual gifts increase from $4.1 million to $15.3 million.

Moos initiated more than $160 million in facility improvements while at Oregon. Included in that was the $90 million Autzen Stadium renovation in 2002, which added 12,000 new seats, 32 new suites, a new Club at Autzen and a new press box. In his 12 years, Oregon football led the Pac-10 in attendance 11 times, reaching 100 percent capacity each of those years.

During Moos' tenure, Oregon athletics captured 13 Pac-10 championships across six different sports. He increased opportunities for women by adding two intercollegiate programs, soccer and lacrosse, and negotiated an all-inclusive shoe and apparel contract with Nike, one of only 14 in the country at the time. From an academic standpoint during Moos' tenure, Oregon student-athletes collected 722 academic all-conference selections, 34 Academic All-America selections, nine NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship recipients and one NCAA Top Ten Award.

During his first stint as a collegiate athletic director at Montana (1990-95), Moos created an academic support program and hired its first athletic academic coordinator, developed a facility enhancement plan that created more than $4 million in improvements, and lifted the school's fund-raising efforts to show a 300 percent increase in private and corporate gifts.

Academically, Montana student-athletes were equally successful as the athletic department achieved a graduation rate 20 percent higher than the general university enrollment. Under Moos' watch Montana garnered 269 academic all-conference selections, five Academic All-Americans and two NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship recipients.

Moos began his athletic career as an athletic administrator in 1982 as assistant athletic director at Washington State. He also served as the school's associate athletic director (1988-90).

At Washington State, he was director of development for more than five years and associate director for nearly two years, supervising all external operations. Prior to that, he managed and owned private businesses in Washington and Oregon for eight years. He was a student assistant football coach at Washington State for the 1973 season, then spent part of 1974 in Washington, D.C., serving as a government intern.

Raised on a wheat and cattle ranch in eastern Washington, Moos attended high school in Olympia when his father served in the governor's cabinet. Moos earned his bachelor's degree in history from WSU and was a three-year letterman in football before concluding his collegiate career by representing Washington State in the 1972 East-West Shrine All-Star Game in San Francisco.

He served as co-captain on the Cougars' 1972 squad and garnered first-team All-Pac-8 Conference honors. Moos and his wife Kendra have three daughters: Christa, Brittany and Kaiti; and two sons, Bo and Benjamin.

SCOTT FUESS JR.

Faculty Athletic Representative

Scott M. Fuess Jr. was named the University of Nebraska-Lincoln faculty athletics representative on Feb. 21, 2020. He officially began his new role on July 1, 2020.

As faculty athletics representative, Fuess serves as a liaison between the Office of the Chancellor and Athletic Department. Areas of focus in the role include the welfare of student-athletes, maintaining the positive relationship between athletics and faculty, NCAA compliance, developing and responding to NCAA legislative proposals and representing the university at related NCAA and Big Ten Conference meetings.

The half-time position - which was restructured to an expected term of five years - reports directly to Chancellor Ronnie Green and consults with Athletic Director Bill Moos. The representative splits academic year time equally between academic responsibilities and faculty representative duties.

"The faculty athletics representative plays a key role as a leader dedicated to protecting and enhancing the student-athlete experience both here at Nebraska and across the NCAA," Green said in announcing Fuess' appointment. "Scott has needed experience with intercollegiate athletics and in training the next generation of athletics administrators. I know he will serve in distinction, continuing Nebraska's tradition as a national leader in the student-athlete experience."

Fuess, the Steinhart Distinguished Professor of Business and former chair of the College of Business' economics department, has worked at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln since 1986. He serves on the Faculty Senate's Intercollegiate Athletics Committee, having chaired the committee for 2018-19 and a sub-committee in 2017-18.

"It's an honor to serve the university as its faculty athletics representative," Fuess said. "I embrace the challenge to uphold and advance the university's well-earned reputation for supporting student-athlete academic success, as well as our renown for ethical leadership in intercollegiate sports."

In August 2018, Fuess was named director of the university's cross-disciplinary master's degree program that offers a specialization in intercollegiate athletics administration. The program - which has been completed by 48 Huskers - is built on MBA coursework, allowing students to earn hands-on experiences through Nebraska Athletics, industry professionals, other universities and alumni.

Fuess earned a bachelor's degree from the University of Delaware, as well as master's and doctoral degrees from Purdue. His research interests revolve around issues of economics, primarily in labor, collegiate athletics and Japan.

BIG TEN CONFERENCE

Kevin Warren
Commissioner

Known as one of intercollegiate sports' most successful undertakings, the Big Ten is home to a lineage of legendary names and an ongoing tradition of developing strong leaders. Even in its infancy, the conference established itself as the preeminent collection of institutions in the nation, where the pursuit of academic excellence prevailed as the definitive goal.

The history of the Big Ten traces back 122 years to the Palmer House hotel in Chicago, where on Jan. 11, 1895, then-Purdue president James H. Smart and leaders from the universities of Chicago, Illinois, Michigan, Minnesota, Northwestern and Wisconsin set out to organize and develop principles for the regulation of intercollegiate athletics.

At that meeting, a blueprint for the administration of college athletics under the direction of appointed faculty representatives was outlined. The presidents' first known action "restricted eligibility for athletics to bonafide, full-time students who were not delinquent in their studies." That important legislation, along with other legislation that would follow in the coming years, served as the primary building block for intercollegiate athletics.

On Feb. 8, 1896, one faculty member from each of those seven universities met at the same Palmer House and officially established the mechanics of the conference, which was officially incorporated as the "Intercollegiate Conference Athletic Association" in 1905.

Indiana and Iowa became the eighth and ninth members in 1899. In 1908, Michigan briefly withdrew its membership, and in 1912 Ohio State joined the conference, bringing its membership total back to nine. Upon Michigan's return in 1917, the conference was first referred to as the "Big Ten" by media members, and that name was eventually incorporated in 1987.

As the 1900s opened, faculty representatives established rules for intercollegiate athletics that were novel for the time. As early as 1904, the faculty approved legislation that required eligible athletes to meet entrance requirements and to have completed a full year's work, along with having one year of residence.

In 1901, the first Big Ten Championship event was staged when the outdoor track and field championships were held at the University of Chicago. The debut event marked what is now a staple of conference competition. Today, the Big Ten sponsors 28 official sports, 14 for men and 14 for women, including the addition of men's ice hockey and men's and women's lacrosse the last three years. Big Ten schools compete in a total of 42 sports, furthering the conference's commitment to broad-based programming and providing more participation opportunities than any conference in the country.

One of the conference's proudest traditions began in 1902 when Michigan took on Stanford in the Rose Bowl, the nation's first bowl game. Big Ten teams only appeared in Pasadena twice before the conference signed an exclusive contract with the Tournament of Roses in 1946, making it the first bowl game with permanent conference affiliations. But Michigan's appearance in 1902 cultivated a relationship that has endured for more than a century.

Coupling the academic goals set forth by the conference leaders and their steadfast commitment to athletics, the conference instituted the Big Ten Medal of Honor in 1915. It is awarded annually by each conference institution to a student of the graduating class who has attained the greatest proficiency in scholarship and athletics. It is the most prestigious honor a student competing in Big Ten athletics can receive.

In 1922, Major John L. Griffith became the conference's first "Commissioner of Athletics." Griffith was the first of five men to assume the role of commissioner in the conference's history, followed by Kenneth L. "Tug" Wilson in 1945, Bill Reed in 1961, Wayne Duke in 1971 and current commissioner James E. Delany in 1989.

After nearly 30 years with 10 members, the conference consolidated to nine schools when Chicago formally withdrew its membership in 1946. Michigan State was added to the Big Ten three years later, bringing the number of affiliated conference schools to 10 once again.

In 1955, the Big Ten formulated a revenue-sharing model designed to pool all football television rights of its members and share those proceeds equally. The conference and its members continue to utilize a revenue-sharing model, dividing media rights, bowl payouts and other profits among all conference institutions.

While academics have always played an integral role in the conference, presidents of the Big Ten member institutions formalized the primacy of academics with the establishment of the Big Ten Academic Alliance (formerly the Committee on Institutional Cooperation) in 1958. The Big Ten Academic Alliance is an academic consortium of all Big Ten universities. In 2014, the schools currently constituting the Big Ten Academic Alliance produced over $10 billion in funded research, $5 billion more than any other conference.

In one of Duke's first actions as commissioner, he oversaw the adoption of the Big Ten Advisory Commission in 1972, designed to study conference programs and make suggestions that would further Big Ten objectives. The Advisory Commission enlists former students that competed in Big Ten athletics to serve as liaisons to the NCAA's Diversity and Inclusion Department, the Big Ten Student-Athlete Advisory Commission and other organizations.

In 1981, the conference presidents and chancellors endorsed a proposal that enabled universities to affiliate their women's intercollegiate programs with the conference, and the first conference championships for women were staged that fall. The Big Ten was the first conference to voluntarily adopt male and female participation goals after launching its Gender Equity Action Plan in 1992.

In December of 1989, the conference agreed in principle to invite Penn State for membership. On June 4, 1990, the Council of Presidents officially voted to integrate Penn State into the conference, giving the Big Ten 11 members.

On June 11, 2010, the Big Ten Council of Presidents/Chancellors (COP/C) approved a formal membership application by Nebraska, which officially joined the Big Ten Conference on July 1, 2011.

The conference expanded to 14 programs when Maryland and Rutgers officially became Big Ten members on July 1, 2014, giving the conference almost 9,500 students participating in intercollegiate athletics and more than 11,000 participation opportunities on 350 teams.

On June 3, 2013, the Big Ten announced that Johns Hopkins had been accepted as the conference's first sport affiliate member. Johns Hopkins' addition in men's lacrosse gave the Big Ten six institutions sponsoring the sport, allowing the debut of men's lacrosse as an official conference sport. On June 17, 2015, the conference announced that Johns Hopkins was accepted as a sport affiliate member for women's lacrosse beginning in 2016-17. On March 23, 2016, the conference announced that Notre Dame will join the Big Ten for men's ice hockey beginning in 2017-18.

Since opening in the fall of 2013, the Big Ten Conference Center in Rosemont, Ill., has played host to more than 300 meetings annually for member institutions, Big Ten Academic Alliance-related committees and coaching groups. The headquarters also feature an interactive digital museum - the Big Ten Experience - which opened to the public on June 7, 2014. For more information on the Big Ten Experience, visit bigten.org.

In June 2014, the Big Ten opened a second office in New York City, featuring both office and meeting space in Midtown Manhattan. Three Big Ten staff members are based in the New York City office to provide expanded coverage and service. The conference manages 28 championships and tournaments, offers legislative and compliance services, oversees the production and distribution of nearly 1,400 events annually, provides staff services to coaching and administrative personnel and services media and fans interest for information on the Big Ten Conference.

More than 120 years after its inception, the Big Ten remains a national leader in intercollegiate athletics on and off the field. Big Ten programs have combined to win more than 450 team and 1,800 individual national championships, consistently taking home individual honors for athletic and academic accomplishments and fulfilling the Big Ten's mission of academic achievement and athletic success.

"Ellie continues to grow her game. Ellie is a consistent baseliner that challenges her opponents' patients. Ellie could stay on the baseline all day long and play relatively errorless tennis. She has worked hard at gaining strength and hitting heavier. Her forehand this fall is becoming a tremendous weapon as she is gaining tremendous power. In addition, the areas of her game that have grown the most are her serve and confidence in her overhead. Ellie has good hands at the net and is a strong doubles player as well as singles player."

Despite the season being but short, the 2020 Huskers took a giant step forward last season. Following a 10-17 season in 2019, NU bounced back in 2020, going 11-4 overall and 9-0 at home.

The season opened with a match against Sacramento State. The Huskers dominated in their debut, shutting out the Hornets 7-0.

The following weekend, NU welcomed Florida International to Lincoln. The Huskers got a quick win over FIU after earning the doubles point and three singles wins from freshmen Kristina Novak, Chloe Kuckelman, and Ellie Kuckelman. The Panthers would go on to finish the season ranked No. 49 in the final ITA polls.

The Huskers welcomed Air Force and Creighton on Feb. 1 to conclude their opening stretch of home matches. Nebraska and Air Force battled with NU coming out on top, 4-3. Chloe Kuckelman secured the Husker win with a 6-2, 6-4 victory over Nadeen Lieberman. Later that day, the Huskers welcomed in-state foe Creighton to the Dillon Tennis Center. After securing the doubles point, Nebraska cruised to a 4-0 win over the Bluejays.

In their first road contest of the season, NU traveled to Waco, Texas to take on Baylor. Kristina Novak earned a win at the No. 1 spot, but the Bears handed the Huskers their first loss of the season, 6-1.

On Feb. 14-16 Nebraska traveled to Orlando, Fla., for a trio of duels against UC-Santa Barbara, TCU, and No. 16 UCF. NU went 1-2 on the weekend with a 4-0 win over TCU.

After two weekends on the road, the Huskers returned home to the Dillon Tennis Center. On Feb. 21, Nebraska dominated Colorado State, 6-1. On Feb. 23 NU took down Iowa State, 5-2, a team that beat them in 2019.

On Feb. 26, Nebraska traveled to New Jersey for a mid-week Big Ten matchup against Rutgers. In what would be their only Big Ten match of the season, Nebraska handled the Scarlet Knights with a 6-1 win.

Back in Lincoln, Nebraska welcomed Wichita State to Dillon for a Feb. 29th matchup on the outdoor courts. After earning the doubles point, Nebraska was solid in singles, dropping just one match to the Shockers.

On March 4, NU went to Manhattan, Kan., for what would be their final road match of the season. Nebraska gave the Wildcats all they could handle, but lost 4-3.

On March 7, Wyoming and Illinois State came to town for the final matches of the 2020 season. The Huskers secured back-to-back wins over the Cowgirls and the Red Birds, 6-1 and 4-0, respectively.

The Huskers were set to travel to Indiana and Purdue the following weekend, but days prior the 2020 season was canceled. Nebraska finished the season 11-4 and unbeaten at home. With such a strong start to the year, Nebraska looked forward to the bulk of the Big Ten season.

Fortunately, all three 2020 seniors were granted restored eligibility and opted to return to the team in 2021.

LIFE SKILLS

The Life Skills staff provides proactive education to all incoming and returning student-athletes designed to promote responsible decision-making, enhance one's personal brand and preparing student-athletes for life after sports. Interactive presentations are delivered during summer bridge sessions, orientations and year-by-year tiered development workshops.

INDIVIDUAL MEETINGS

Every Nebraska student-athlete is assigned a Life Skills staff member who will assist with personal and career development. The meetings help each student-athlete identify a career focus and implement a plan to increase career marketability.

CAREER COMMITMENT & NETWORKING

Nebraska Life Skills organizes an annual Student-Athlete Career Fair Networking Night and other career events aimed at connecting Huskers with companies desiring competitive, hard-working, accountable candidates. Athlete Network and UNL's Handshake Link provide opportunities to explore career opportunities across the country.

COMMUNITY OUTREACH

Nebraska student-athletes readily accept the role-model challenge, collectively giving more than 8,000 hours annually to impact thousands across the state of Nebraska. Outreach events include but are not limited to hospital visits, mentoring, school assemblies, statewide rallies, Make-A-Wish, School is Cool and Husker Heroes. During the 2019-20 academic year, 296 Husker student-athletes completed at least six service projects earning spot on the coveted Tom Osborne Citizenship Team.

LEADERSHIP

Nebraska Life Skills provides student-athletes with countless opportunities to enhance leadership skills while distinguishing themselves from the competition. Student-athletes can be members of the Student-Athlete Advisory Committee, Nebraska Football Road Race, Inner Circle, N-Vest or N-VOLVED. UNL offers more than 600 recognized student organizations allowing athletes to collaborate with other campus leaders for common goals. Nebraska Life Skills has funded and coordinated an annual service abroad trip that allows 20 student-athletes to work together toward a common goal while enriching cultural competencies.

POST-ELIGIBILITY OPPORTUNITIES

Since 2015, every student-athlete who letters and graduates will have a three-year window to benefit from one of three post-eligibility opportunities each valued at $7,500. Upon completion of required seminars, graduates can either study abroad, complete an internship or begin graduate school within the University of Nebraska-Lincoln or the University of Nebraska Medical Center.

DIVERSITY AND INCLUSION

The Life Skills program also is responsible for all Diversity and Inclusion initiatives for Husker Athletics. Since 2016, the Diversity and Inclusion Summit has reached all student-athletes and staff with programming emphasizing respect, acceptance and unity. Numerous other special events are coordinated in collaboration with campus departments highlighting the diversity within Husker Nation. N-Vest is a new mentoring program aimed at fostering successful transitions while connecting participating athletes with campus or community mentors to aid in personal and career development.

CHAMPIONS IN ATHLETICS, ACADEMICS, LIFE

The Nebraska women's tennis program has established itself as a national contender. In 2013, the Huskers advanced to the NCAA Sweet 16 and played host to the first and second rounds of the NCAA Tournament for the first time. It was Nebraska's sixth NCAA appearance in an eight-year span.

Coach Scott Jacobson is in his 30th season as the winningest coach in Nebraska tennis history. He helped 2013 All-American Mary Weatherholt to a second-place finish at the 2013 NCAA Singles Championship. Weatherholt added an NCAA Elite Eight finish alongside fellow 2013 All-American Patricia Veresova in doubles. Weatherholt also captured the 17th of Nebraska's NCAA-leading 18th NCAA Top Ten Award, after being named Nebraska's Female Student-Athlete of the Year.

Left: Mary Weatherholt set the all-time record for career wins at 208, the first and only women's player in Nebraska history to surpass the 200-win mark. Weatherholt was the 2013 NCAA Singles runner-up, 2013 NCAA/ITA All-American in both singles and doubles, Big Ten Women's Tennis Athlete-of-the-year in both 2012 and 2013 and earned the NCAA Top Ten Award for her performance on the court, in the classroom and community.

Right: Gitte Ostermann (top) was a three-time All-Big 12 pick and led NU to its first-ever NCAA Tournament team appearance in 2005. Imke Reimers (bottom) was a two-time CoSIDA Academic All-American at Nebraska and earned a prestigious NCAA Postgraduate Scholarship in 2008.
